IONGEN™ SYSTEM

Electronic Clarifier for Ponds and Pondless® Waterfall Systems

The Aquascape, IonGen™ is a water clarifier solution for ponds, Pondless® Waterfalls, and other decorative water features. The IonGen™ drastically reduces pond maintenance and provides crystal clear water without the use of chemicals. A microprocessor inside the IonGen™ control panel causes the outermost atoms of copper, silver and zinc to lose an electron, creating a positive ion. The positive ion attempts to flow from one of the Probe's bars to the other and is swept away by the flow of water where the ion can begin to treat the water. The IonGen™ Probe is self cleaning, using reverse polarity to prevent scale and debris build-up on the Probe's bars. The metal alloys in the Probe are scientifically blended and tested to produce maximum results. The IonGen™ System is safe for fish and plants and is not toxic to any animals that may drink from the pond.

- Drastically reduces pond maintenance
- Crystal clear water without the use of chemicals
- Eliminates unsightly water conditions
- Simple to install
- Safe for fish and plants
- Not toxic to animals that may drink from the pond
- Energy efficient (less than $1 a month in electricity cost)
- Treats ponds up to 25,000 gallons

POND AERATORS

2-Stone

4-Stone

Every process that happens in the pond is dependant on oxygen. This is especially important at night when plants are not converting fish-created CO<sub>2</sub> into oxygen. Dissolved oxygen levels are also generally lower in warmer water temperatures. Pond aerators oxygenate your pond, helping create a more stable environment, resulting in healthier fish and plants.

- Promotes a cleaner environment by providing oxygen to beneficial bacteria
- Helps to de-gas CO<sub>2</sub> at night
- Increases dissolved oxygen rates crucial to healthy fish
- Helps circulate pond water
- Can be used in winter to help keep the pond from completely freezing over

Plants

Care & Program

Aquatic Pond Plants

Aquatic plants are a very important step in achieving a truly balanced ecosystem pond. We have provided you this information to help you find appropriate plants for your water garden. We recommend you contact your local Aquascape dealer for availability, or visit our website at www.aquascapeinc.com to find an authorized Aquascape dealer in your area.

Regardless of why you got into this hobby, adding aquatic plants to the pond is an important part of the water garden. They provide beauty and naturalization with a huge array of plant choices. Most importantly, they help balance the pond's ecosystem and provide valuable biological filtration that removes nitrogen, ammonia, nitrates and other minerals from pond water. These excess nutrients are often the cause of unsightly water conditions. The end result helps to minimize pond maintenance, leaving more time to enjoy your pond. Without aquatic plants, your pond would not be able to function as a complete ecosystem.

Aquatic Pond Plants can be classified into a few main categories: Water Lilies, Marginal Plants, Floaters and Oxygenators. Plants can also be put into two basic types known as "tropical" and "hardy." Hardy plants will over-winter in colder climates and tropical plants are more suited to warmer climates, although tropical plants are often used as annuals in colder climate zones.

Aquascape aquatic plants are the foundation of every water garden. Not only do they provide beauty, they also help to balance the pond ecosystem. Aquascape plants will quickly naturalize the pond while at the same time provide shelter and shade for aquatic creatures.

Water Lilies and Lotus

Water lilies are among the most popular of aquatic plants and are often the centerpiece of the water garden. A water garden never seems complete without a few beautiful water lilies. Not only are water lilies breathtaking but they provide valuable shade, which helps to keep the pond cool while providing refuge for pond fish. Ideally, thirty to sixty percent of the water surface should be covered with aquatic plants.

Submerged Aquatic Plants (Oxygenators)

Like the name implies, this group of plants lives below the water surface. They are commonly referred to as oxygenators. Submerged aquatics do produce oxygen during most of the day. Submerged aquatic plants live entirely underwater, almost. Some oxygenators do bloom and the flowers often rise to the surface. They include plants such as elodea, anacharis, hornwort, foxtail, cabomba, and vallisneria. For the most part, submerged plants absorb their nutrients directly from the water. This means they compete with algae for nutrients, thereby helping to balance the ecosystem.

Hornwort

Parrots Feather

Water Hyacinth

Water Lettuce

Floaters

Floating plants do just as their name indicates; they float on the water's surface. Their roots dangle beneath the plant absorbing all their nutrients from the water. Most floating plants do a great job of filtering ponds by removing nutrients directly from the water as opposed to the soil where most other aquatics plants are situated or planted.

Marginal Plants

The marginal plant group is the largest aquatic plant group by far, containing both hardy and tropical plants. Most of them are true perennials and come back year after year, like your favorite Daylily or Black-Eyed Susan. Marginal plants serve many functions such as adding beauty and providing valuable filtration. They are called “marginals” because they typically grow around the edges or “margins” of a pond or lake. Marginal plants typically thrive in wet soil or standing water that covers the crown or base of the plant by as little as two inches and up to as much as six inches.

Step 4: Let the water sit overnight or use a water conditioner like Aquascape's Pond Detoxifier before adding plants or fish.

Step 5: Place plants on the integrated shelf. The round portion in the middle of the bowl is ideal for a water lily.

Step 6: Add a few small fish for color and movement. We recommend two or three small goldfish or Rosy Reds.

Aquascape 200 watt AquaDeicer™ is ideal for keeping a small hole open in the ice during winter. It is important to leave a small hole open at the surface of the pond allowing for necessary gas exchange. In extreme conditions or gardening zones above 5 we recommend the Deicer be used in conjunction with an Aquascape pond aerator.

- Thermostatically controlled
- Allows for proper gas exchange
- Low power consumption
- Can be used in any pond deeper than 18"
