* Burner of this product compared to a burner in a conventional 14 kW LANDMANN outdoor heater

Schematic illustration of the heat
dissipation

Variable height adjustment enables optimised heating for different application cases. For seated groups: lowest position of the telescopic column. For standing groups: highest position of the telescopic column.

Effective heat dissipation through adjustable heat reflector. Conventional outdoor heaters waste up to 50 percent of the heat output. With Sirius, the heat is only dissipated into the desired areas.

Space-saving storage through use of the telescope function and additional folding of the aluminium reflector.
